

International Trade

Fall Term 2018

Harald Fadinger

E-mail: harald.fadinger@uni-mannheim.de

Office: 4.19

Office hours: by appointment

Evaluation:

Students will be evaluated according to active participation in class (30%), and problem sets/presentations (70%). The first part of the course will be structured as a lecture. Depending on the number of students, the second part will be organized as a reading group, where we will discuss papers at the research frontier.

Textbooks:

No single textbook covers the course adequately. Some useful references for parts of the course are:

Dixit, A.K. and V. Norman (1980): Theory of International Trade, Cambridge University Press. (DN)

Feenstra, R.C. (2015): Advanced International Trade: Theory and Evidence, 2nd edition, Princeton University Press. (F)

Helpman, E. and P.R. Krugman (1985): Market Structure and Foreign Trade, MIT Press. (HK)

Topics will be covered in the lectures, except for topics that are marked with . These will not be covered in the lectures, unless we advance faster than expected. Topics 11-13 will be covered by presentations, depending on the students' interest. Papers marked with # are particularly well suited for presentations/discussion in class.
